CREATING A RESPONSIVE THREE YEAR PLAN OF SERVICE FOR MARIGOLD 2016 - 2018

Marigold members and staff are fully committed to providing exceptional public library service: The engagement is stimulating! This is the journey:

February – May 2015: Marigold started the strategic planning process, led by the Board’s Standards and Services Committee.

- In February the Committee began gathering information about various strategic planning methods.
- Facilitator Anne Smith was invited to the May 26 Standards and Services Committee meeting to clarify her process for gathering feedback from stakeholders.
- Based on Smith’s recommendations, the Committee drafted a Strategic Planning Survey. Survey data was later summarized and shared with targeted focus groups: Marigold staff, member library managers, and the Executive and Standards & Services Committees.
- The Committee recommended a 3 year time frame for the Plan: 2016 - 2018.

June 2015: Respondents to Marigold’s Strategic Planning Survey identified the five most critical challenges facing Marigold.

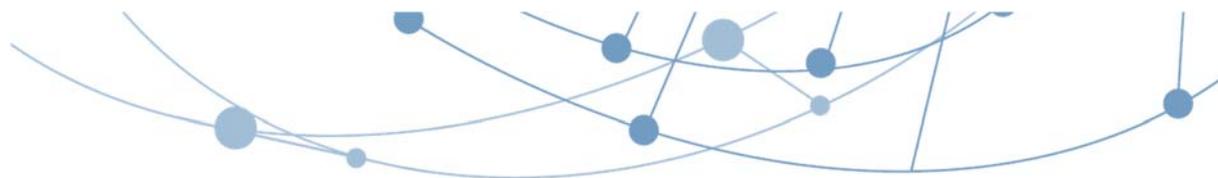

- Funding for Marigold to support service to a growing population.
- Limited functional space at Headquarters restricting Marigold operations.
- Getting the word out about Marigold and the value of libraries.
- Marigold’s ability to assist member libraries in meeting changing and increasing demands for library services and content.
- Balancing traditional services and new services requiring different resources and expertise.

July 2015: Smith spent several days at Marigold Headquarters working with targeted focus groups.

- Marigold’s service population has increased 2 ½ times in 10 years. Because of more member libraries and patrons, diversification and expansion of public library services, and an aging building and inefficient space, participants engaged in lively discussion about the need for an expanded building for Headquarters to be a key element of the strategic plan. All groups overwhelmingly agreed that space limitations facing Marigold Headquarters impact the organization’s ability to take effective action in other areas such as increasing services and enhancing technology.
- Participants called for a strengthening of advocacy and targeted communication strategies to secure funding for a new building and for increased awareness about Marigold. Members also expressed their eagerness for a new logo and rebranding of Marigold.

August 2015: Anne Smith led Marigold Board members through a process to evaluate and confirm which service areas should be priorities for Marigold.

- Again, there was lively discussion about the need for an expanded building for Headquarters to be a key element of the strategic plan.

September 2015: Headquarters staff prepared a draft of the goals and objectives for the Standards and Services Committee based on the feedback received from the survey, focus groups and Marigold Board.

- Standards and Services Committee met to review, refine and confirm the service areas, goals and objectives, and to set performance measures.
- Vision 2018 will be presented to the Marigold Board on November 14, 2015.
- Marigold Board will review the rate of progress with respect to each objective on an annual basis.

Throughout the entire process, staff and Board representatives had the opportunity to review Marigold’s Vision statement. All groups agreed that the current Vision Statement, Leaders in Library Service and Innovation, will serve Marigold Library System well through 2016 - 2018. Marigold will continue to promote this Vision within the Marigold Community*.

The November 2014 Member Satisfaction Survey indicated a high level of customer satisfaction with current Marigold Services. Focus groups and Board discussions confirmed that current services, Marigold staff and the value of the services provided by Marigold are all strengths Marigold can build upon.

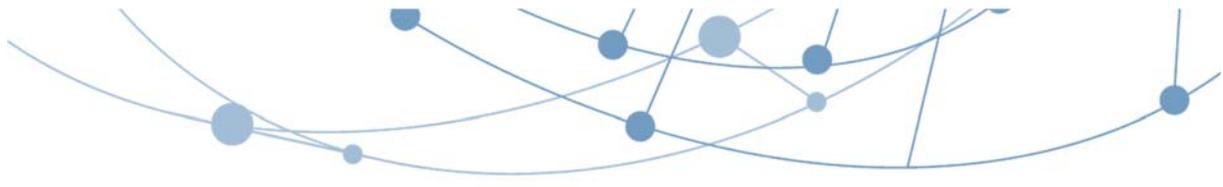

Marigold wishes to express its deep appreciation to all who helped to align Marigold’s priorities and to set a path for the next three years.

VISION 2018 objectives define the strategies and performance measures that Marigold Library System will pursue to achieve four strategic goals in the 2016-2018 timeframe:
